

Summer Social 2015

Checking on the social's details, Sej Harman, Janelle Rivers, and Pam Craig are pleased with the turnout. Members had been asked to bring friends so they could get to know the League better.

Enjoying the treats, Roni Klemisk, Virginia Winn, and Carol Pyoyner appraise the event. The three had been invited as guests of members.

Salley Rickenbaker and Carolyn Hudson

Sharon Ayling and Al Roblee

Horace Holloman, Virginia Winn, and another guest

Missy Caughman, Salley Rickenbaker, Lynn Teague, and Sarah Leverette

Woodhill Estates Club House August 7, 2015

The August Social was wonderful as usual. Carol Cato suggested that we create a specific name for the summer festivity around the celebration of the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment. Perhaps a member will come up with the perfect name.

The Woodhills Estates clubhouse looked beautiful as members placed food and drinks on colorful tablecloths. Some of our members have been so dependable that we know just what they will do; however, please note we cannot take any of this help for granted. The event was a success because of them: Janie and Robin White set up the "bar" and made sure beverages were available. They also supplied all the paper products for the evening. Carol Medich sponsored us to use her homeowners' clubhouse. Pam Craig and Horace Holloman cleaned up in such a smooth operation that most people didn't know how much they had done. And members who bring delicious treats delight us.

During the business meeting, Martha Roblee and Keller

Barron explained the processes we used to study and come to consensus on the two national policy issues for this year. Martha headed up the Constitutional Amendment issue. Marianne McGrath was the chair of the Money in Politics committee.

Hampton Estates Clubhouse

Keeping the drink table supplied, Robin White checks the supplies. Lynn Teague, Sarah Leverette, Rita Paul, Elizabeth McLendon, and Carol Cato discussed League priorities.